OPEN WATER LAKE TROUT –
TROLLING & JIGGING STRATEGIES

Geneva has an abundant population of Lake Trout with many over 30 inches. While there has been a surge of anglers targeting Lake Trout through the ice, we don't see many anglers not taking advantage of these deep predators during the open water season. We do have a few members that do target this beautiful and hard fighting species during the legal open water season. It seems jigging for Lake Trout is an underutilized technique. When caught while jigging a large lake Trout can put up a fight not unlike fighting one of Geneva's Muskies.

LGFC has a few members that have extensive experience of trolling or jigging for this species.

Previous LGFC Anglers of the Year – Paul Beran, Mark O'Neill, and Jim Bloede will share their experience fishing for Lake Trout on Geneva and Lake of the Woods. They will share suggested strategies and techniques to help those just beginning to target Lake Trout as well assist lake Trout veteran possibly develop some new methods to improve on their past success. It might be important to learn when to troll and when to jig!

It has been (too) many years since we held a seminar on Lake Trout so now is the time to show up while these learned experts – Paul, Jim, and Mark – share a few of their secrets.
