MIKE NORRIS – MIKE NORRIS OUTDOORS LLC

SPRINGTIME SMALLMOUTH BASS – PREPARATION AND TACTICS

Mike Norris is a licensed fishing guide on Big Green Lake and other surrounding lakes in south central Wisconsin. Mike specializes in catching trophy smallmouth bass, largemouth bass, northern pike, walleyes, and panfish during their seasonal peaks.

As one of the Midwest's top fishing guides, Mike exceeds his customers expectations when on the water with him. His customers not only catch fish during a guide trip with Mike Norris, but Mike teaches them innovative strategies and sonar interpretations for how and why they are catching fish. Mike's extensive knowledge of seasonal fish locations and use of electronics to find fish makes him as successful fishing for panfish and northern pike as he is at catching trophy smallmouth bass and walleye.

Mike's expertise does not end on the water. He is a dynamic seminar speaker, and he is also featured in national and regional fishing publications. You will find his tips for catching smallmouth bass in late fall and early winter in the October/November issue of the In-Fisherman magazine. Mike also provides weekly fishing reports to Dale Bowman's "Midwest Fishing Report" in the Chicago Sun-Times.

Before moving to the Green Lake areas, Mike formerly guided Geneva Lake for many years for smallmouth bass and other species. He has extensive knowledge and skills in fishing deep, clear bodies of water for smallmouth. This will be a chance for us to learn valuable lessons about early-season smallmouth fishing from one of the best in the Midwest.

Mike's topic will center around preparing for and selecting the best lakes and techniques for catching smallmouth bass from ice-out through early summer. This will be a great time to learn valuable lessons from one of the best Midwest guides and teachers, plus an exceptionally skilled angler.
