

WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 11TH – 6:00 PM

SPEAKER: ISAAC LAKICH –

NATIONAL WALLEYE TOURNAMENT ANGLER

TOPIC: FALL FISHING FOR FAT WALLEYES

Professional Angler and Guide Isaac Lakich has over 2 decades of experience on the water. Specializing in walleye fishing and chasing them on waters across the country. Isaac has been competing competitively since 2017 and begun finding success early on. Lakich has won Team of the Year awards, achieved 30 top 10 finishes and five wins in various walleyes tournament circuits including MWC, AIM, and Head 2 Head. Isaac has recently finished second in a couple walleye tournaments.

In addition to tournaments Isaac is a full-time guide who travels to several water bodies in the Midwest chasing trophy walleye from ice out to ice up! Winters are spent teaching seminars on how to utilize electronics and find trophy walleye year-round! Follow all his adventures via Isaac Lakich Fishing on Facebook or Instagram.

Finding and catching some of the biggest fish of the year with both aggressive daytime jigging techniques and finesse nighttime stealth! As temperatures drop fish put on the feed bag. Some of the best fishing of the season can be achieved by those who brave the elements as winter edges closer! Isaac breaks down how to tackle the fall transition! This will be timely for those looking to score some fat Geneva eyes this fall and winter.
